

GCA 151 : English Composition I

Students practice the process of writing expository essays. They improve their grammar, punctuation, diction, manuscript mechanics, sentence sense, paragraph composition, revising, editing, and proofreading skills. Students submit short essays employing various rhetorical styles (such as comparison/contrast, process analysis, division/classification, cause/effect, and definition). They also submit a final paper.

Credits 3