

PCM 324 : Principles of Church Health

Studies the principles of growth using a wide variety of examples, statistics, and research on the subject of church growth. This course has as its goal the practical application of the laws of growth and health in the local congregation. Attention is also given to fundraising needs of a growing church.

Credits 3